COIN MACHINES—for Maintaining Morale!

HARRY COHEN PASSES ON

Most of the men in this industry were acquainted with Harry Cohen of Ohio Specialty Company, Cincinnati, Ohio. Most of the boys will remember that ten gallon cowboy hat that Harry used to sport around the conventions and his laughter and jokes and good humor and good will to all. He appointed himself official greeter to a certain extent and kept the conventions full of life and laughter and fun and frolic. Harry was among those exceptional men who could draw a laugh out of almost anything and make even the blackest of black clouds burst forth with gleaming sunshine.

Just this past week Harry Cohen passed away after a lingering illness in Cincinnati. We were notified by special wire from Charley Rosen who had received leave from the Navy to attend the funeral and was once again back at his former stamping grounds, Ohio Specialty Company's Louisville offices. A few days prior to this notification we had received a letter from Mike Cohen of Myco Automatic Sales Company, Columbus, O., advising us that Harry was extremely ill and that brother Mike was spending his time between Columbus and Cincinnati.

The passing away of Harry Cohen came as a great blow to everyone who knew him. There is no doubt in our mind but what Harry will be capering and bringing laughter and sunshine and good will to all of St. Peter's wards. We feel that somehow Harry hasn't left us, really, for he has left behind him a spirit of friendship and good fellowship that will always live in our hearts forever and a day.

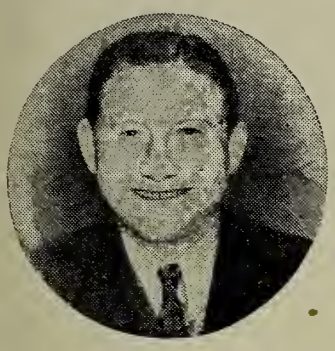
"The Coin Machines Merry-Go-Round"

By Bill Gersh



MORALE

The plans of WPB to cut down to the bone on all luxuries and a great many necessities for the Federal fiscal year, beginning July 1, 1943, will, it is generally believed, raise the problem of maintaining as high a morale peak as this nation has so far demonstrated during this war. The job of maintaining morale brings the coin machines industry into the national limelight in outstanding fashion. It means that the members of this industry can now help to perform a great and patriotic duty.

The maintenance of a high morale peak during this coming, leaner year is a job for which the coin machines industry is well fitted. The men engaged in this business have already proven that their equipment is not only capable of helping to maintain morale of the home front, but is also in large measure responsible for the continued high morale of the armed forces. Here is a job at which this industry can shine. A job in which this industry can glory. And something for which the leaders of this nation will be extremely thankful to this industry for performing as well as it has in the past.

The three divisions of the coin machines industry: amusement, service and merchandising machines, are peculiarly well fitted for the task of helping to maintain morale on all fronts. Amusement devices of all types especially, will be of tremendous help as the public's nerves wear thin by lack of many essentials and those little luxuries to which they have become so much accustomed. As more and more men are taken into the armed services; as more and greater casualties are reported; as loss and less meats and other essentials reach home; there will need be something to completely distract the minds of the present overburdened public and to win them, with as much good will and humor as is possible, to the sacrifices which will have to be made.

The Cash Box believes that this industry can continue on a profitable basis and yet, at the same time, do a tremendously important job for this nation by offering itself to the home front as a maintainer of morale and as a healer of ills; those ills of the anxious and disturbed mind, which are harder to heal than ills of the flesh.

Automatic merchandising will grow ever more important. Especially those merchandisers located in war plants that will be able to continue to offer speedy and efficient service to the home front. Service machines of many types are important, too, in this present effort. In fact, all the coin machines industry is perfectly fitted for this coming trial.

Taxes, too, have already caused concern among many. The demand for a pay-as-you-go tax, now that the full import of this tax has been reported, has created some doubt in the minds of those who at first believed it a great advance step. The 20% deduction from the average pay envelope strikes rather hard, close to home.

Coin operated equipment of many types stand to gain much honor during this coming year. They are certain to win over a great many more boosters than they previously have had by continued help to general morale. It is therefore the hope of The Cash Box that the members of this industry will plunge wholeheartedly into this greatest of all jobs they can perform at this time, and offer themselves and their equipment to their communities for all occasions to help bring about a feeling of humor, amusement, relaxation and good will as well as a continued and determined fighting spirit.

TAXES

Like all business men in all industries, the men engaged in the coin machines industry, being staunch individualists, created a picture of upheaval due to the increased taxation as proposed by the Federal government beginning with this new Federal fiscal year. But since then, the picture has somewhat cleared and the men engaged in this industry have responded magnificently to the appeal of the Treasury Department for even more funds to continue this war successfully.

Present taxation has not in any fashion whatsoever affected the coin machines industry. The prospective increase for Free Play pin games, from $10.00 to $100.00 per license per year where cash or merchandise is awarded for the free plays, was the crux of the entire tax revision demand. It was, of course, understood by the majority of the men engaged in this industry that the greater percentage of the free play games would as usual appear on their locations with the $10.00 license.

It is also believed that the Treasury Department will make periodic check-ups to assure itself that this provision in the $10.00 license (that free plays are not awarding cash or merchandise) is maintained. Attempts will probably be made by certain Treasury Department agents to get storekeepers to sign affidavits that they are living up to this regulation, where the $10.00 license is in effect. Whether or not the location owner will sign such a Federal affidavit is problematical. The average operator believes that he can live up to the $10.00 license as well as any automobilist can live up to the gasless provisions the government has asked him to live up to. Or, for that matter, as well as any industry will live up to the rules and regulations concerning the licenses which will be granted that specific industry.

The average arcade owner, who has an all year around location, and today these are in the majority, feels that the $10.00 license is not too much to pay. The seasonal arcade, with actually but six real profit weeks, believes that this is out of line. This matter will have to be thrashed out. But, so far the seasonal arcade has not as yet had a complete opportunity to test this fact. After this season more will be known as to whether the seasonal arcade can or cannot endure this $10.00 per year license per free play game.

The fact is that most equipment now in operation can stand for even a higher tax rate and make money so doing. This is important to this industry. Of course, looking into the future, we are all a bit worried about the fact that once the Federal and local governments find this income coming in from something which they just plucked out of the air, so to speak, that they will desire to continue taxation of coin operated equipment from then on for all the life of taxation. (This is one problem that faces the men in this industry in the post-war era.)

Yet, if the Federal and local governments find it profitable to tax coin operated equipment for the maintenance of government, most certainly they will not want to be without this tax and thereby will allow coin machines operation to continue. From every standpoint it is the old story of properly smoothing the way. The government will, no doubt, continue to tax coin operated equipment, long, long after the war is won and so will all local governments who are already doing so at this time. Those who like to look as far into the future as they possibly can foresee taxation in modified form as to the advantage and not to the detriment of this industry.

CENSORSHIP

For sometime now it has been a unique and complimentary fact to learn that the men engaged in this industry look to this publication for much more than just the printing of advertisements and editorials. They consider The Cash Box, they report, "An exclusive club for the active members of this industry". Naturally, we feel extremely honored. This is an attribute to the force which we have built.

Large cash deposits have been sent in our care for the purchase of merchandise and this has met with the approval of both buyer and seller. We have been given as reference between buyer and seller clear across the nation. We have been recommended as the bureau of information concerning buyer and seller. We have also been told that we should arrange for censorship of certain advertisements. We have, therefore, been placed in the position of much, much more than a publication in this coin machines industry.

We have refused the subscriptions of a certain few men engaged in this industry. We have demanded that certain type ads, which were extremely vague and uncertain, be completely clarified. We feel that this industry does not need censorship in the real meaning of the word. It needs faith. It needs confidence in all others with whom it deals. It needs, perhaps, greater belief in itself. And in doing what is right it wants the other party to any transaction to do the same.

We will continue to refuse subscriptions from such men whom we know to have disobeyed all rules of decency in regards to business procedure and who haven't made any attempt to cure this sort of action. We are going to proceed on the theory that this industry is one of the best in the world and that the men engaged in this business are honest and upstanding business men who want to do the right thing at all times.

We believe that "censorship" is one of the ugliest and most obnoxious words in the American language. We hope that someday it will be eliminated. And, we hope, that the members of this industry will be among the first to help eliminate it.

RECORDS

In the past few weeks we have received letters, wires and phone calls to help obtain records. We have been told that many distributors of records are not only rationing supplies to coinmen, but are first selling to large retail outlets prior to even considering coin sales. This has begun to seriously affect a great many who now find themselves in an extremely precarious position for continued, profitable play of their music equipment.

The results of the record ban are becoming more apparent each day. The trade is not only extremely vexed at its continuance, but gradually becoming more angry because of the fact that the record manufacturers themselves seem to be doing so little to bring about a culmination of "L'Affaire Petrillo".

In addition to the fact that records are becoming more difficult to obtain each day there is reported to be gradually arising a black market in this field and this may hurt all concerned if allowed to continue. The coinman must be extremely careful these days in every move he makes. In the northeastern part of the country the men are covering their phonos with tarpaulins for they find that OPA and ODT inspectors will not allow phono transportation when gas is so scarce. And with other problems of this kind to contend with the record ban grows even more irksome.

The record ban itself is not of the coinmen's making, as is well known. But there is no one as yet definitely taking the part of the music operator in this controversy and this again means that the trade will continue to suffer while the record manufacturers make up their minds as to just what they feel they can offer Petrillo. And, vice versa, what Petrillo feels he can accept from them.

MEET

The demand for a meet of the leaders in this industry to discuss the possibilities of a National Coin Machines Board of Trade continues greater than ever before. One point must be made clear. The National Coin Machines Board of Trade is not in the former sense, a coin machines association. It is to be composed of all the leaders in this industry who feel that the public and officials, nationally, should also be informed of the good which this industry has accomplished. It is not an organization to deal with the local problems of each group of coinmen. It is, instead, a unit of the men of this industry who will meet at regular intervals to propose ideas for the good and welfare of all this industry.

Instead of local groups making appeals to Washington on such matters as national taxation, the National Coin Machines Board of Trade, being representative of all the nation's coin machines men, will make these appeals if they are believed necessary, and will work with the Federal government to help inform this industry of all restrictions which may be imposed as well as keep this industry informed of what rights it has.

This meet, that a great many leaders are clamoring for, is for all to take under advisement. If the majority believe that such a meet should be held then the leaders of this industry can come together to hold it and to discuss the various problems which affect them and in which they believe a National Coin Machines Board of Trade would prove most helpful.

POST WAR

Sometime ago The Cash Box proposed that this industry arrange for post war plans by a series of surveys which would bring to light the number of machines, as well as the type of machines most in demand, which could instantly be put into work the moment the manufacturers returned to domestic production. Such surveys are being conducted by almost every industry at this time. Plans are now being made by those factories that will be able to plunge into domestic production immediately after the war is won.

This past week, David C, Prince, vice president of General Electric and chairman of the industrial advisory board of the Committee for Economic Development urged WPB to allow firms to build plants now for post war production to cut down the transition period from war to peace production.

There is but one fault to find with the "open" publication of such statements They tend to create complacency in the public generally and give the idea that the war is practically over. Experts in Washington realize that the war is as yet far from finished, but also realize that such plans as proposed by Mr. Prince are most necessary for they will take up the slack that will come about during the period between war and peace production.

The same is true of the coin machines industry. It is the hope of The Cash Box that leaders will turn in confidential reports regarding the situation in their territories, as well as what they believe will be most necessary the moment the war is over, so that these can be compiled for the attention of the manufacturers in this industry who have already set up plans for post war production.

IMPORTANT

The Confidential Price Lists are to be read as follows: First price listed is lowest price for the week; Second price listed is highest price for the week; Where only one price appears this should be considered lowest price.

Many times, wide differences appear in the high and low prices of certain equipment. Like any true reporter The Confidential Price Lists can only feature the market prices as they are quoted. The Confidential Price Lists act exactly the same as the market quotation board at the Stock Exchange—posting the prices exactly as they are quoted for each week, regardless of how much they may seem to be out of line. Some machine prices do not change for months. The Confidential Price Lists, rather than show no price for the week, retain the last known quotations for such equipment so that the subscriber at least has the last known quoted prices as a basis to work with. Prices continue to be very widely divergent these days. Someone on the West Coast may feel a certain machine worth $150.00 whereas someone on the East Coast may think it worth but $75.00. Of course, condition, serial, appearance, demand, territory, quantity, etc.,must all be taken into consideration. The Confidential Price Lists report each quotation exactly as it is made and depend on the subscriber to make average price adjustment to fit the peculiarities of his own territory.
